Dear Mr. Casey:

Enclosed are the "Proceedings for the Twenty-Seventh International Affairs Symposium" conducted by the School of International Studies at the United States Army John F. Kennedy Special Warfare Center. Such symposia are held twice annually as the culminating exercises of the Center's Foreign Area Officer Courses. Complete background information on these symposia is contained in Appendix A to the enclosed booklet.

The first plenary session was opened by Colonel Donald M. Moore, Director, School of International Studies, United States Army John F. Kennedy Special Warfare Center. Colonel Moore introduced Ambassador Otto J. Reich, whose keynote presentation, "Dilemmas in American Foreign Policy," provided a stimulating beginning. Following the keynote address, five workshops convened to discuss the specific issues outlined by the Symposium: Foreign Policy Formulation, The Foreign Policy Process, Relations with Allies, The Nonaligned States, and Relations with the Soviets. The workshops produced some excellent, thought-provoking ideas, conclusions, and recommendations. The proceedings are provided in the belief that it is beneficial to share the fruits of such efforts with individuals and agencies sharing our interests in national security affairs.

We hope these proceedings will be of interest and use to you.

Sincerely,

ROBERT D. WIEGAND
